Mrs. John Dudley Passes at Hillcrest

It was with sorrowing hearts that the many friends of Mrs. John Dudley learned of her death, which occurred at her home on Friday morning, June 11, after a lengthy illness.

Mrs. Dudley (nee Mary Gibson) was born in Ince, Lancashire, in 1884. She came to Canada in 1905 and has resided in Hillcrest since her marriage to Mr. Dudley.

Up to the time of her illness, Mrs. Dudley was active on many community projects, and was an ardent church worker. She was one of the early members of the Ladies Aid and for many years was a member of the United church board. She was always ready and willing to help others in time of sorrow or need; her happy smile and cheery greeting endeared her to all who knew her.

She is survived by her husband, John Dudley; two daughters, Mrs. C. Coover, of Coleman, and Mae, of Hillcrest; two sons, Jack and Norman, both of Hillcrest; a brother and sister in England and three grandchildren.

Funeral services were held on Sunday afternoon at 2:30 from the Hillcrest United church, Mr. Kay officiating and Mr. A. Christie presiding at the organ. After the church service, the long cortege proceeded to the Hillcrest cemetery where interment was made.

Pallbearers were Jack and Norman, sons of the deceased; C. Coover, W. Fisher, C. Pitford and W. Prescott. Deepest sympathy is extended to Mr. Dudley and family in their bereavement.

SIR ERNEST MACMILLAN CHOSEN AS CANADIAN FATHER OF THE YEAR

Sir Ernest MacMillan, conductor of the Toronto Symphony Orchestra, received the first annual Father's Day award of $100, which he turned over to the sustaining fund of the orchestra. He received this tribute "for not only being a typical Canadian father, but for his outstanding contribution to the children of Canada in forwarding the musical culture of the nation."

During his busy career, Sir Ernest has given a father's heritage to two sons—the ability to live successfully—and has also fathered and inspired a nation-wide family—the thousands of musicians who have been influenced by him since he made his debut as a virtuoso organist at the age of eight. As Dean of the Faculty of Music of the University of Toronto and conductor of the Toronto Symphony Orchestra, he has helped and encouraged children from coast to coast. In many western Canada cities there are branches of the Sir Ernest MacMillan Fine Arts Clubs of Canada, founded in his honor and developed by young people who have learned to enjoy and appreciate the fine things of life. His young people's concerts and secondary school concerts played by the TSO in Massey hall, Toronto, are further activities in his upbringing of his "children."

Father's Day falls on Sunday, June 20, this year and is accepted traditionally as the day on which Father is honored in his own home by special attentions bestowed on him by his family. It originated in 1910 when Mrs. John Bruce Dodd, of Spokane, Washington, suggested to the Ministers' Alliance as an appropriate day to honor the head of the house.

Michel beat Hillcrest 7-1 in the soccer game on Sunday.

Due to poor weather and road conditions the Bailey Bros. Circus, scheduled for Tuesday, the 15th, failed to appear here.

HILLCREST ITEMS

Mrs. H. Jones left last week to visit her father in Drumheller before entering Central Alberta Sanatorium for health treatment.

Mrs. C. Lawrence left on Sunday for Calgary where she will undergo an operation in the Holy Cross hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Cruickshank are Calgary visitors this week.

Mrs. Herkimer of Kimberley is visiting at the home of her brother, Mr. J. Dudley, this week. She arrived on Saturday to attend the funeral of the late Mrs. Dudley. Mr. and Mrs. Bill Spence, also of Kimberley, attended the last rites.

A concert by the school children and directed by Mr. W. G. Moffatt, was held in the Union hall on June 4. A varied program of vocal and instrumental solos, choruses and dramatics was thoroughly enjoyed by an appreciative audience.

CALGARY STAMPEDE AND EXHIBITION

Several innovations will highlight the afternoon performances of the 1948 Calgary Exhibition and Stampede. Officials of the Stampede feel that they have contrived the outstanding act in rodeo today in Dick Griffith, of Phoenix, Arizona. Griffith climaxes his spectacular and colorful trick riding performance with a roman standing jump over an automobile. He has been named world champion trick rider several different years, and his act has been presented in Madison Square Garden, New York, for ten consecutive years.

Color and thrills will be added by the importation from Texas of forty Brahmas bulls for the bull riding event. Few people among the spectators realize the viciousness of these hump-backed bundles of fury. Only the top riders in the business will tackle them, and these boys show them a very healthy respect. It is essential when using Brahmas to also have a clown in the arena who, at the conclusion of each ride, does a mock bull-fighting act, distracting the attention of the animal while the rider scrambles to safety. Slim Pickens, an outstanding cowboy clown from Fresno, California, has been contracted for the Stampede, and between his bull-fighting acts, will amuse the crowd with his antics, and those of his trick mule.

The Thearle-Duffield Co. of Chicago who presented the spectacular fireworks exhibit in Calgary last year will return this year with a display which should be among the greatest ever seen in Canada, and will be presented Monday, Wednesday and Saturday evenings.

The Ernie Young Booking Agency of Chicago will provide the evening stage attractions in front of the grandstand and will present a show brought to Western Canada at a cost greater than ever before paid for grandstand attractions on the Western Fair Circuit. This promises to be a fast moving show in which comedy will predominate.

The outstanding livestock show will also attract a great deal of attention as exhibitors compete this year for the most generous prize list ever offered in Western Canada. Breeders of purchased cattle, horses, sheep and swine will split a total of more than $23,500.

Freddie Poch, of Frank, has secured employment at Thompson's, grocery store, as a driver.

If men have really come of age we should make our own living from now on—instead of our own dying.

Weddings

GODFREY-HUGHSON

The Coleman United church was the scene of a quiet and pretty wedding, when Lillian, youngest daughter of Mrs. C. Hughson and the late Mr. Charles Hughson, of Blairmore, became the bride of Willie, son of Mr. and Mrs. Godfrey, of Coleman, on Saturday, June 12, at 10 a.m.

The bride wore a brown suit with matching accessories and a corsage of roses. Miss Irene Perozak, of Blairmore, acted as bridesmaid, and Mr. Oyckie, of Lundbreck, supported the groom.

A reception, was held at the home of the groom's parents, with only the closest relatives present.

The happy couple spent their honeymoon at Lethbridge and will reside in Coleman where the groom is employed.

TAYLOR-BOORMAN

A June wedding of interest to university and nursing circles took place in Blairmore on Monday, June 7, at 2 p.m., when Mary Marguerite, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Boorman, of Blairmore, was united in marriage with Mr. Norman Eugene Taylor, younger son of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Taylor, of Oakland, California.

Rev. Arthur Boorman, brother of the bride, performed the ceremony, which took place under a natural arch of trees on the lawn of the bride's home.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of white satin with lily-point sleeves, pointed neckline of net and yoke of Italian quilting embroidered with seed pearls. Her floor-length veil was held in place by a matching tiara of seed pearls and the carried a shower bouquet of pink roses, carnations and lily of the valley.

Miss Ellen Sumner, of Westlock, Alberta, classmate of the bride, acted as bridesmaid. Her gown was of daffodil yellow sheer and with it she wore a chapel veil held in place by a coronet of orange blossoms and lace ballerinna mittens. She carried a colonial bouquet of mauve and white carnations and baby mums.

Dr. George Boorman, of Rimby, brother of the bride, was best man, and Mr. John Boorman, of Calgary, cousin of the bride, acted as usher. The wedding music was played by Mrs. Bert Stock, of Hanna, aunt of the bride.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride, where 40 guests were received by the bride's parents and mother of the groom. Mrs. Boorman chose for the occasion an afternoon dress of silk jersey in black and cerise with which she wore black accessories and corsage of white carnations. Mrs. Taylor wore a dressmaker suit in black with white lace jabot and black accessories, flowered hat and corsage of tallinn roses.

The bride's table, covered with a white cutwork linen cloth, was centered with a three-tiered wedding cake in a setting of pink cathedral tapers and pink sweet peas. Rev. Boorman proposed the toast to the bride.

Following the reception the bridal couple left on a motor trip to Waterton Park and Oakland, California. For travelling, the bride wore a suit of powder blue wool, cream straw sailor hat, cream and brown accessories and corsage of tallinn roses.

They will reside at Logan, Utah. Out of town guests at the wedding included Mrs. H. L. Taylor and Mrs. A. Waring, of Oakland, California; Mrs. W. Rankin, of Winnipeg, Alberta; Rev. and Mrs. J. A. Mr. and Mrs. Cosstick, accompanied by Mrs. Robinson of Bellevue, were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Bent.

We have just had another million dollar rain here this week of over three inches if it had only fallen in some other part of the country that needed it. Many farmers here are still waiting for the land to dry sufficiently for them to finish their spring seeding.

Mr. Arthur Gretton, of Virginia, is on his annual two-month holiday trip which he has spent in this part of Alberta for the past few years. At present he is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Rhodes. Mr. Gretton is a well known artist of considerable note and loves to paint our magnificent western scenery.

DR. H. E. SMITH ANSWERS CHARGES

Edmonton, June 15.—No evidence has yet been presented to show that the present generation of Canadians and Americans is lower in scale mentally, morally, socially, physically or spiritually than any other group of people at any time in the world's history.

That, in a small measure, is the answer made by Dr. H. E. Smith of the University of Alberta to recent charges of Rev. Angus James MacQueen regarding what he termed in a magazine article "the failure of education." Education's failure, it was charged, lay in its not producing educated men and women; its not developing moral character; its failure to inculcate a true sense of values, to broaden man's humanity, to recognize man's spiritual nature and to preserve the cultural basis of the Western civilization.

In his article of rebuttal, Dr. Smith discussed Mr. MacQueen's suggested remedies: the classics and religion.

Remembering that "green spectacles were not invented yesterday," Dr. Smith flayed the assumption that the golden age of human excellence lies somewhere in the past and that the best to be hoped for now is to keep from slipping too far away from it. "I think this golden age is a pretty dream made up in kaleidoscopic fashion and viewed through a flux of imagination," he wrote.

Dealing with the Classics, he supported the view that all but the very rudiments of literature, history and politics should be reserved for adult education, typified by the Folk Schools of Denmark.

The burden of proof in the matter of religion in the schools rests with those who contend for religious education in school programs, he commented. "With so much material that is teachable and excellent and soundly spiritual available to the schools," he concluded, "let us not introduce material properly characterized as fashionable. Those who deplore atomic bombs above our heads ought not to advocate planting them also beneath our feet."

Mrs. J. Miller, all of Lacombe; Dr. and Mrs. G. C. Boorman, David and Michael, of Rimby; Mr. and Mrs. J. Stock, Hanna, and Miss E. Sumner, Westlock.

Lethbridge Man is Killed, Coleman Mine

William Witwicki, 23, formerly of Lethbridge, was instantly killed early Wednesday morning in an accident which occurred at the McGillivray Creek mine in Coleman. Two other workers were caught under falling coal and rock, and were dug out immediately, suffering little injury.

The accident occurred when a mine train, entering the pit, ran off the track and struck some timbers, thereby causing a cave-in.

Mr. Witwicki had been employed at the mine for the past two months. A veteran of World War 2, deceased, he joined the RCMP in January of 1943, and went overseas the following September. He returned to Canada in the spring of 1946.

The remains were forwarded to Lethbridge where interment will take place tomorrow at 2 p.m., following services by Rev. N. W. Whitmore, Martin Brothers funeral home directing.

An inquest was opened at Coleman Wednesday evening, with Coroner D. MacPherson, of Blairmore, presiding. The jury returned a verdict of accidental death.

COMMUNICATION

Blairmore, Alta, June 12, 1948.
Editor, Blairmore Graphic,
Blairmore, Alta.

Dear Sir:
Permit me to utilize the letter columns of your paper to clarify the electoral policy of the Labor-Progressive Party.

All progressive minded people in the Crown West Pass are agreed that the Social Credit government must be defeated in the coming provincial elections. Its anti-labor record and particularly the introduction of the fascist Bill 91, its failure to maintain a decent highway through the Crow or to provide adequate protection against floods are but a few examples of its lack of concern for the welfare of the people. The present Social Credit MLA for this constituency has done little if anything for the people here; he should be replaced by one who will carry the fight for the needs of the people right into the parliament buildings in Edmonton.

But the defeat of Social Credit can be certain only if unity is established in the ranks of labor and the progressive people. Today such unity does not exist. Both the LPP and the CCF have nominated candidates for the provincial constituency of Pincher Creek-Crows' Nest. If this situation is not corrected, the progressive vote will be split as it was in 1944 and Social Credit may get in again.

We of the LPP are anxious to do everything possible to bring about unity in the constituency. We are prepared to sit down at any time with representatives of the CCF and trade unions to discuss ways and means of achieving unity so that only one candidate will contest the seat for the progressive forces. A united labor candidate, democratically nominated, and supported by the LPP, CCF and trade unions would be certain to win. We believe the needs of the people should take priority over the ambitions of political parties.

May I add further that in our opinion it is imperative that labor actively participate in the election in defense of its own interests. If Social Credit is not defeated, then Bill 91 will be followed by still worse anti-labor legislation. Labor must unite its ranks so as to defeat Social Credit and elect a fighter for labor and the people.

Yours truly,
BEN SWANKEY.

Vindication Of Dieppe

WHILE THE INVASION OF DIEPPE, in which the Canadian army played a major part, occurred in August, 1942, it has continued to be a subject of interest in this country, and there are many who have never been fully satisfied as to whether the operation was worth the cost of the many lives which were lost in it. Recently, further light was thrown on the matter, when the official story "The Canadian Army in the Second World War" was published by the Dominion Department of Defence. Two chapters of "The Canadian Army, 1939-45" written by Col. Charles Blaylock, Director of the Historical Section of the General Staff, deal with the Dieppe operation, and give many facts which show, that while the operation in itself was a failure, invaluable information was gained, which contributed much to the success of the invasion of Europe on "D" Day.

New Reasons

For Failure

Not only was useful information gained, but the operation was of further value because, in view of their success in repelling it, the Germans believed that they could successfully beat back any invasion of the beaches. Events following "D" Day demonstrated that the Germans had been misled by the attack at Dieppe into believing that the tactics they employed there would ensure their hold upon the continent. While most of the events of the operation have previously been published, some new information has been made public in the story published by the Defence Department, which show more clearly why the attack failed. One of these was that it was decided not to provide heavy bomber support. "The elimination of this air bombardment removed from the plan the only element of really heavy support contained in it," the author states.

May Be Proud Of Undertaking

Another point of interest not hitherto emphasized was that Major General J. H. Roberts, Commander of the Second Canadian Division, was hampered by "limited and frequently inaccurate information," reaching him at his headquarters aboard a destroyer, concerning events on the shore. One extremely exaggerated report of successes on the main beaches decided him to land his fighting reserve, which ran into withering fire. The author writes, "It is difficult to avoid the conclusion that the planners underestimated the influence of topography and of the defensive works known to be numerous in the target area." In spite of these things, the value of the operation in planning the "D" Day invasion of 1944 has never been seriously questioned. In referring to that aspect of the event Col. Blaylock writes, "That much criticized undertaking has made an essential contribution to the success of the most momentous operation of war ever attempted." For that reason, we may feel pride in the part played by the Canadian army in the attack, in spite of the fact that it was a costly failure.

FEED GRAIN EXPORTS BANNED IN B.C.

WINNIPEG.—The wheat board announced that export permits for shipment of oats, barley and mixed feeds from British Columbia would not be granted until there is an improvement in supplies of feed grains on the west coast.

At the present time there is a heavy demand for feed grains in B.C. caused by flooding of pasture land and also by several railway connections with prairie shipping points where feed grains are stored.

FAMILY COO KEEPS PIANIST'S FINGERS NIMBLE

CAPEVILLE, Tenn.—Twelve-year-old William Edits says he owes his musical talents to his mother. More than a year ago Bill's father suggested that the son milk the cow to keep his fingers nimble for the piano. Bill agreed, although he suspected that his father merely wanted to pass on the chore.

"But," says Bill, "that cow's been keeping my fingers in shape. Now my three sisters want to help with the milking."

DISCIPLINE NEEDED

VANCOUVER.—Rt. Hon. C. D. Howe, trade minister, said there would be no reason to fear further rising prices if Canadians would submit to the same discipline in peacetime that they support in wartime.

'Gully Erosion' Threatens Prairie Farm Lands

Here is the extreme results of "gully erosion" which threatens many thousands of acres of prairie farm lands. This field was bare summer fallow, with a loose topsoil, which resulted from many cultivations last year. These may be largely eliminated by the use of chemical weed control, which is believed to be an important development in the battle against soil erosion.

(Central Press Canadian) SASKATOON, Sask.—A party of top-flight farm scientists met at Birch Hills, Sask., to consider one of the gravest problems that has yet confronted western agriculture. In an area of good land, where bumper wheat crops have been the rule for the past several years, the land is sick and in danger of a slow, lingering death. Water erosion, the cause of the "sickness," created the problem which the scientists are trying to beat.

Up in the Birch Hills country, and countless other places where the prairie land rolls in great sweeps, broken here and there by sparse poplar and birch groves, the problem is acute. The rolling land, stripped of its protective cover of grass, shrubs and trees, then worked for years on end, becomes susceptible to running water, which courses down bare hillsides, gouging out deep gullies, carrying down the priceless thin covering of topsoil, leaving the rocks and gravel showing.

Nature saw to it that the prairie bush country was protected against water erosion, but when man removed the protective material, he bumped into plenty of trouble. Nowadays, where rolling land has been cleared and cropped, the farmer is almost certain to face the problem in a year of heavy spring runoff, or during a heavy rainstorm in the summer when the land can't soak up the water as quickly as it falls, and it follows its natural tendency to run to a lower level.

The scientists at Birch Hills came to two important conclusions. One was that the land must be managed so that it has a protective covering of stubble or grass at all times during which it is vulnerable to water erosion, and the other was that reduction of cultivation is needed.

But a rich soil produces good crops of weeds as well as useful crops, and farmers have found it necessary in the past to cultivate summerfallow six, seven and even more times during the summer to kill off fresh growths of persistent weeds, which sap the soil moisture, choke out crops.

New Theory That was the old way; but this year will see a new theory tried in the prairie provinces, and a lot of cultivation eliminated. Great hope of many a farmer who wants to save his good land for generations yet to come lies in the new chemical method of weed control, by means of selective herbicides, such as 2, 4-D. Where susceptible weeds appear on summerfallow, it is possible to destroy them with a series of heavy applications of the "wonder chemical," eliminating the need for frequent disking or cultivating. After a crop has been taken off in the fall, it is thought that the protective stubble can be left, and the next season's weed growth dealt with largely with chemical sprays.

Probably the chemicals won't entirely eliminate the need for cultivation. But a few weeds which are fairly resistant to 2, 4-D can be dealt with otherwise, without too much disturbance of the soil surface and its protective cover.

FARMERS RECEIVE 708,000 TAX GUIDE BOOKS

OTTAWA.—Hon. J. J. McCann revenue minister told the commons 708,000 special income tax guide books have been placed in the hands of Canadian farmers.

Dr. McCann recalled his March announcement that farmers who report taxable income based on cash actually received and cash expenses actually paid out during the calendar year need not be required to fill out the net worth statement on the new 1947 prairie farmers' or farmers' return.

"Those farmers who reported income on an accrual basis for tax purposes will be required to submit a statement of assets and liabilities as heretofore or to complete the appropriate parts of the net worth statement. Where the department can't obtain sufficient information by any other means, it may require a further statement which in many cases may actually be the net worth statement. This would apply for any year for which sufficient information is not available."

The guide book had two purposes. It gave the farmer a sample book "for the purpose of recording his income and expenses in such a way as to facilitate the accurate completion of his returns." It also answered questions.

BABY BEEF CLUB—This line-up is the Saltcoats, Sask., Baby Beef Club, which won five out of the eight main classes for juniors at the recent Yorkton Fat Stock Show and Sale. Seen in the foreground is Lorne Neil with his champion Hereford steer, which brought him over $400, at 54 cents a pound. There were 11 clubs competing at Yorkton, and the photo was made during the judging of groups of 10, when there were 110 fine calves in the ring.

THE TILERS

Three Prairie Provinces Good Oil Prospects

EDMONTON.—In Manitoba, the southwestern corner of the province is thought to be a possible oil producing region. In Saskatchewan, the entire southern half of the province is underlain by sedimentary rock favorable for oil exploration but in Alberta virtually the entire province is considered by oil men to consist of potential oil land.

The exploration programmes of major Canadian and United States oil companies this year reflect directly the oil potential qualities of the three prairie provinces. There is some exploration planned and underway in Manitoba, more intensive exploration in Saskatchewan but the great majority this year will take place in the Province of Alberta.

Estimates by informed oil men vary greatly on the amount of money that will be spent in Alberta this year. These estimates range from $30,000,000 upwards. Imperial Oil has announced that Harry H. Hewitson, president of his company will spend $20,000,000 in Alberta in 1948.

Prairie farmers are heading into a year of large-scale use of chemical weed control. Many of them last year grew the cleanest crops in history by killing off weeds in the growing crop, since cereals generally are not affected by 2, 4-D and most of the common broad-leaf weeds are extremely susceptible. This year, many more are looking forward to trying out "chemical summerfallow," a method which may play an important part in driving the spectre of water erosion from the fertile prairie country.

CANADA SENDS WHEAT GRASS TO AUSTRALIA

OTTAWA.—A supply of Canadian-developed wheat grass, specially selected for drought resistance, will be taken back to Australia by W. A. Meares of Forbes, New South Wales. The strain of grass, valuable for forage, was given him by the Dominion department of agriculture and is to be developed for Australian pastures.

The spider spider has 680 tubes through which it spins its silk. It can make one cord of 680 strands by bringing its six spinneret fingers together.

KING FOR A DAY!—Father's Day is the one day of the year Father is allowed to take it easy. According to the custom established in 1910. Possibly, all fathers are not fortunate enough in having two pretty daughters and his wife serve him his breakfast in bed, Sunday, June 20th, traditionally set aside as Father's Day in Canada, but in some way, in all Canadian homes... FATHER WILL BE KING THAT DAY!

INDUSTRIALIST TO LEAVE BRITAIN TO MAKE NEW START IN CANADA

BIRMINGHAM, Eng.—Next August J. C. Neil Gordon will relinquish his managing directorship of a Midlands manufacturing company and sail for Canada with an automobile and trailer to "start all over again."

"Some folk think I'm crazy," 44-year-old Gordon said, "but I'll bet that in a year or two I'll be a managing director again, with my own plant and a large number of Canadians on my payroll."

"But to begin with I'm willing to do anything from selling ice cream to working at a bench. And I know how to work, too. I've been through the mill once and I'll do it again."

Starting as an employee engineer, Gordon built up a group of Midlands manufacturing companies devoted to tarpaulins, canvas, leather and sports goods (the RT group incorporating Reynolds and Company Limited). He says he is pulling out because "no enterprising trader can make any headway in Britain under the present system."

"When private enterprise is bound up with red tape it means death to private enterprise. I'm going to Canada because I believe the Canadian people still respect enterprise as the backbone of national life."

"Under a Labor Government the working people of this country have forgotten the simple truth that high wages without an adequate return in work spell ultimate disaster for employers and employees alike."

"We are all resolved to make a success of our new life in Canada and my boy is prepared to earn a living in the good old-fashioned way—by work, work and more work."

In Canada I hope he will develop his muscles as well as his brain.

"We are going to Toronto first. I am taking the car and trailer as a protection against the current housing shortage there."

Award Scholarships For Barley Study

WINNIPEG.—Five scholarships are being awarded each year by the recently organized Barley Improvement Institute, as a stimulus to research for new varieties of malting barley. The scholarships will be good in any Canadian university which undertakes barley research.

The Institute, which is being financed by the brewing and malting industries of Canada started operations here May 1. It is headed by Prof. T. J. Harrison, a widely known barley authority, who since 1939 has been assistant for Manitoba to the Board of Grain Commissioners for Canada.

Greatest need in the barley industry, says Prof. Harrison, is for varieties with good malting qualities and better agronomic properties. To assist in developing them, the institute proposes to aid plant breeders at approved institutions.

The scholarships are being awarded to encourage university graduates to undertake advanced study in barley research.

Miss Canada Doesn't Like U.S. Fashions

TORONTO.—Margaret Marshall, "Miss Canada" in 1948 and runner-up in the "Miss American Beauty Contest at Atlantic City thinks New York City is 'a rich cake with too much icing on it.'"

The Toronto beauty queen is back home on a visit after some months' study of dramatics in New York on the scholarship she won as one of her prizes.

In her spare time Margaret is an usherette at Carnegie Hall. She's saving for the future, pointing out: "It's a long, hard climb in New York and I will need something to fall back on."

United States fashions fail to impress her.

"New York women wear too many fuzzy ruffles and frills," she said in an interview. "They go in for huge hats loaded down with fruit and flowers, very spiked heels and thick platform soles. Brilliant box coats with droopy backs and a load of jewellery... when I need anything new I will come back to Canada for it."

Agriculture Department Boost Blue Grass

OTTAWA.—The Agriculture Department plugged home-grown blue grass seed as the best for pastures, airfields, playgrounds and cemeteries.

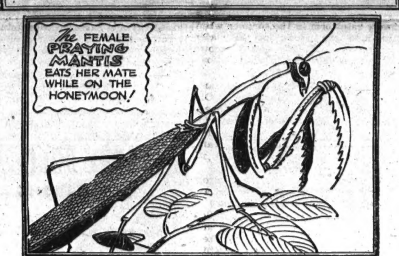

A press release issued said that "as Canada's home blue grass seed is better adapted than imported seed to Canadian soil and climate, it should be preferred in the interests of Canadian economy."

Two types of blue grass are grown in Canada. One, "Canada Blue Grass," is grown mainly in the Niagara Peninsula. It is best suited to dry, sandy, gravelly or shallow soils. Canadian-grown Kentucky Blue Grass comes mainly from the Red River Valley in Manitoba.

Living Costs Soar In Many Lands

CHICAGO.—Living costs are soaring high over several countries besides the United States. Between August, 1939, and December, 1947, living costs in the United States rose 69 per cent, the Municipal Finance Officers Association reported.

During the same period, the Association said, the cost of living jumped 218 per cent in Iceland, 207 per cent in Peru, 205 per cent in Mexico, 178 per cent in Czechoslovakia and 72 per cent in Newfoundland.

Among countries for which comparable statistics were available, the Association added, these showed the smallest cost of living gains for the period: Canada 45 per cent, Norway and Sweden 56 per cent, and Switzerland 68 per cent.

Canadian living costs jumped the highest last year, 14.9 per cent. The United States showed a 1947 increase of 8.9 per cent. The price index declined 6.6 during 1947 in Czechoslovakia and 2.4 per cent in Norway.

It's renaissance or decadence for the world today.

Young Oscar was busily working on the examination for office boy with a large business concern. Finally he came to a question that stumped him.

It read: "How far is the earth from the sun?"

Oscar thought for a time, and finally wrote: "I don't know, but I don't believe the sun is close enough to stop me from doing my work as office boy." He got the job.

Canadian composers failed to reach the standard required in the Canadian Legion March competition and so no prizes will be awarded.

The decision of the final adjudicators Sir Ernest MacMillan, Geoffrey Waddington and W. T. Atkins was that none of the entries they saw were of sufficient merit to rate the $500 first prize. It was stipulated in the contest regulations that no prize need necessarily be awarded. More than 200 entries were received from all parts of Canada.

SALVATION ARMY ASSISTING BC FLOOD VICTIMS

The Salvation Army is co-operating with those in authority in the gigantic task of alleviating distress in the BC Fraser Valley flood area and, according to word issued by Territorial Headquarters in Toronto, funds have been and will continue to be appropriated to this cause until the emergency has passed. Under the direction of Lieut.-Colonel A. Keith, divisional commander for Southern BC, all officers are co-operating to render all possible assistance to those who have been left homeless.

In Vancouver, the facilities of the Army's Gore Avenue Hostel have been made available to shelter families moved to that city from outside points.

Temporary headquarters have been set up at Mission, BC, and SA relief teams are visiting the distressed areas providing food and clothing as well as rendering cash assistance.

An appeal for clothing is being conducted in Vancouver by Major Harold Martin, and Salvation Army headquarters in Victoria, Calgary and Edmonton have made plans for similar clothing appeals should this be necessary.

The Current Manpower Picture

Canadian workers continue to enjoy record levels of employment and income, labor minister Mitchell reported recently in his monthly statement on manpower conditions.

In fact, Mr. Mitchell pointed out the incidence of unemployment in Canada during the two complete post-war years of 1946 and 1947 was even less than that in the United States, and the American record itself has been outstanding. During these two years, unemployment in Canada averaged three and two per cent, respectively, of the civilian labor force. The comparative figures for the United States were 4 and 3.5 per cent.

At present, total employment in Canada is over 100,000 more than one year ago. Monthly wage and salary payments, too, have so far been considerably above last year's totals. And during the past month, Canadian industries have been rapidly absorbing nearly all available manpower resources.

These remarkable favorable conditions are reflected in the job situation at national employment service offices. Accordingly, the number of unplaced applicants registered for work at employment service offices decreased by 35,000 in the past month. At May 13, 1948, applicants numbered 149,000 of whom 41,000 were women.

Labor shortages are already apparent in some sections of the country and in some industries. Immigrant workers are being directed to areas where shortages are most persistent.

In many cases, students are also helping to ease such shortages. Graduates from universities, and especially those with technical training, have had no difficulty in finding permanent employment. In addition, many undergraduates have found temporary jobs in the summer-active industries.

Unfilled jobs on file at employment service offices rose by 14,000 during the past month to number 57,000 at May 13, 1948. Most of these increases in labor demand was for male workers.

In the prairie region there were 26,000 unplaced applicants and 10,000 unfilled vacancies at May 13. Unplaced applicants had decreased by 5,000 since April 15, in spite of the fact that unseasonal weather and severe floods have had an adverse effect on nearly every type of industry. Farming operations have been delayed by poor weather conditions, but with seeding begun, demands for farm labor are steadily increasing. Local labor is sufficient to meet requirements in most districts except in Saskatchewan, where some shortages have been reported. In the logging industry at the lakehead, final preparations have been completed for the spring river drive. A large number of loggers, however, have returned to the prairies for farm work. Livestock deliveries to meat packing plants have been seriously affected by the road conditions and lay-offs have occurred in some instances. Employment in some flour mills has been affected by a lack of export business. It is feared that egg processing concerns will have to reduce a considerable number of workers unless more eggs become available. Commencement of construction work on a large scale has been delayed because of the abnormal weather conditions. It is expected that most of the labor requirements for this industry will be met locally, although some shortages of skilled workers is anticipated.

SCENES OF BRITISH COLUMBIA'S WORST FLOOD

The above scene in the Fraser valley shows the main C.N.R. lines being undermined by flood waters boiling up between the ties. Health officials endeavored to inoculate all persons coming to and from the flood areas against danger of typhoid fever.

Flood-stranded cattle were herded down inundated farm roads at Laidlaw, B.C., their course was marked only by tops of fence posts. Food shortage forced many farmers to shoot their cattle. Small trees in background are almost covered.

The vast farmland area nestled at the base of the Rocky Mountain chain presented desolate scenes like this one near Agassiz, a ghost town after mass evacuation of residents by the navy. Rapid melting of snow in the mountains sent new cascades of water into swollen rivers.

YO, HO ... MR. RIPLEY !!—Here is one for the medical books. Twin infant sisters were born five days (114 hours) apart. They are having their first meal after being released from a hospital at Cheyenne, Wyo. Sharon, at right, is being fed by her mother, Mrs. Jack Rosa. She was born April 30 and weighed six pounds, one ounce. Karon, left, with an aunt, was born May 5 and weighed four pounds, one ounce.

ISRAEL'S PRESIDENT WITH TRUMAN—Provisional president of the new State of Israel, Dr. Chaim Weizmann, (right), presents President Truman with a "Torah" after a half-hour conference at the White House, in Washington. The "Torah" contains the first five books of the Old Testament. The famed chemist would not discuss the nature of his talk with the chief executive.

ONTARIO PILOT, 50, KILLED—Horace William "Jimmy" Westaway, 50, pilot for the Ontario Air Services for almost a quarter century, died in the cabin of his government plane when it crashed in the Severn river near Orillia, Ont., during a take-off. W. S. Taylor, a mechanic, received a shoulder injury and Henry Crowell, a ranger, was not hurt. Officials said the plane was on a routine check-up flight when it crashed near the power plant. They believe it struck an object in the river and nosed over. A short, quiet man, Westaway, formerly of Simcoe, Ont., was a veteran of the First World War. He flew in the Middle East during the 1920's and saw active service during the Second World War, having obtained leave of absence from the department of lands and forests. Above he is pictured lining nicks from the propeller of the plane which crashed.

P.C. ROBERT EDGINTON ERNEST CLARK HOPKINS—POLICE BULLET KILLS SUSPECT—Shot in a police chase, Ernest Clark Hopkins, 32, failed to survive an emergency operation to remove the slug from his abdomen. Hopkins, police said, was one of two men chased by Constable Robert Edginton after he surprised them at a Toronto restaurant. He was hit by the third shot fired by the constable who, police said, was losing the foot chase after he had run about three blocks. Police said they found almost $200 in cash and four cigarette lighters in Hopkins' possession. The money has been identified by the owner of the restaurant, Harry Louis.

HUNDREDS BATTLED BLAZE RACING THROUGH 100,000 ACRES OF FOREST—Weary and smoke-begrimed firefighters take time out for a quick bite in the Northern Ontario bush before returning to the losing battle against one of the two major fires which swept nearly 100,000 acres of tinder-dry forest. Blazes in the Mississauga and Chapleau areas raged uncontrolled in high wind, causing the largest fire in northern Ontario's history.

VETERAN DROWNS—Virgil Soers, of Point Anne, Ont., was one of two veterans drowned when their flat-bottomed fishing boat overturned off Point Anne in the Bay of Quinte. The boat was found the morning after the tragedy. The other victim was Rodwell Parsons, 21. Both men left English war wives.

PALESTINE MEDIATOR—Count Folke Bernadotte, president of the Swedish Red Cross and nephew of King Gustaf V, was named United Nations mediator for Palestine at Lake Success, N.Y. As agent of the security council, he will serve as a neutral figure to whom Jews and Arabs can turn when they are ready to negotiate peace.

OUR COMPLETE SHORT STORY

MISTAKEN IDENTITY

By TED KIMBALL

Lenny stared into the washroom mirror. Behind him, the stranger also stared. They looked at each other for a long time, too astonished to speak. Then Lenny turned slowly around.

"I never saw anything like it," he said.

The stranger had come into the washroom breathless, worried, glancing apprehensively over his shoulder. Now he had control of himself again. He was suave and smiling and at ease.

"It's amazing," he admitted.

"We could be twins," Lenny said. The stranger nodded. "My own mother couldn't tell us apart." He reached into his pocket. "I guess we'd better have a cigarette on it."

Lenny accepted a cigarette and supplied the light. They stood smoking and regarding each other in amazement.

"I wouldn't have believed it," Lenny said. "Just like two pins."

"You'd fool my own mother," the stranger repeated. Lenny saw that he was still a little nervous. The fingers holding the cigarette trembled almost imperceptibly.

There didn't seem to be much more to say. Lenny glanced toward the door. The stranger held out his hand.

"Just a minute. I was noticing that suit you have on. I like it."

"Do you?" Lenny was surprised. He had bought the suit for fifteen dollars, second-hand. He wasn't very proud of it.

"I've been trying to get one just that color," the stranger said. "My wife says I should get all my suits that color."

Lenny waited. The stranger was well dressed, in a light coat of some expensive material. Lenny guessed that it would have cost him around a hundred dollars.

"You wouldn't want to trade, would you?" the stranger asked.

Lenny thought it over and couldn't see any reason not to. It wasn't a fair exchange, but he wasn't the one who was getting stung.

"If you want," he said. "I don't care."

The stranger was already peeling off his coat. "Lucky we bumped into each other," he said. "Not often a trade makes both sides happy."

They completed the exchange in silence, finally transmuting the contents of their pockets. Lenny buttoned his new coat and looked at himself in the mirror.

"How do you like it?" the stranger asked.

Lenny said, "Fine. Fits like a glove."

"Me, too. Everybody's happy, then. Shake?"

Lenny said, "Sure." They shook hands. He nodded toward the door. "Coming?"

The stranger said, "No. You go ahead. I want to wash up a bit."

"Right," Lenny opened the door and walked out into the hotel lobby.

A small, dark man with thirty eyes set close together in a weasel face, was leaning nonchalantly against a pillar. When he saw Lenny he leaned away the butt of a cigar and came forward. He blocked Lenny's path across the lobby.

"Okay, Weaver," he said in a flat, bored voice. "I want my fifty bucks."

Lenny stared at him.

"What fifty bucks?"

"You know what fifty bucks, Weaver. I been tailing you. I saw you go in that washroom. Now I want my dough."

Lenny had expected something like this to happen. He wasn't surprised.

"My name's not Weaver," he said.

The small man laughed without humor.

"Quit kidding," he sneered, "and quit stalling. I want my dough and I mean to get it." He had his right hand in his pocket and there was something in the hand, something bulky.

Lenny shrugged. He reached into his own pocket and brought out a roll of bills. He stripped off five tens and handed them to the small man.

The man took the money. "Next time I don't want to have to come after it," he said.

Lenny nodded. "Okay." He watched the small man leave the hotel, and then he crossed the lobby and stood behind a pillar.

After a while the stranger came out of the washroom, wearing Lenny's fifteen-dollar suit. He looked carefully around the lobby and a wide grin came over his face. He lighted a cigarette and strolled jauntily toward the door.

Before he reached them, two men wearing derbies and smoking cigars—detectives—fell in beside him and grabbed his arms.

There was a brief struggle. The stranger protested in angry bewilderment.

Lenny didn't want to hear what he was saying. He could guess that. Instead he turned and left the hotel quickly by a side door.

Western Briefs

EDMONTON.—City council approved sale of seven city-owned lots for $150,000, the preliminary step in plans of a Montreal concern to build a 15-storey, $6,000,000 hotel in downtown Edmonton.

MOOSE JAW, Sask.—Opposition to amusement of a "vulgar nature" provided at provincial exhibitions and country fairs was registered at the Saskatchewan conference of the United Church. Appreciation of work done among boys and girls to stimulate their interest in agriculture and industrial life of the nation was expressed. But "deep regret" was affirmed that amusements at many fairs have come to be the main attraction.

BANFF, Alta.—John Norison Finlayson of Vancouver was installed as president of the Engineering Institute of Canada, at the 62nd annual convention at the Banff Springs hotel. He succeeds L. F. Grant of Woodstock, Ont. Flood control remained one of the key problems facing the engineers at the closing sessions.

MORDEN, Man.—Another step has been taken in the provision of a water and sewage system for Morden as the result of negotiations members of the town council have had with the Manitoba Public Utility board. A bylaw will be prepared by the council, submitted to the board, and if it meets with the approval of the latter body a vote in the local improvement area will be taken.

EDMONTON.—A record year for Alberta business was forecast by Hon. J. L. Robinson, industries and labor minister for the province. The cabinet minister released a speech showing that except for coal and customs receipts, all Alberta production during the first two months of 1948 was higher than for the same period in 1947.

FLY TWO MILLION BEES TO ALBERTA

EDMONTON.—First large commercial shipment of bees to Alberta by air brought two million of them in 200 packages from Davis, Calif., bound for the Frontier Honey Co., Westlock.

W. C. LeMaistre, provincial agrarist, commented: "The bees were in excellent condition; this venture was so successful that shipment by air probably will become a common thing." Smaller shipments have been made before.

Clyde Gault, manager of the Frontier Honey Co., said he had delayed ordering because of the late spring. Then as spring advanced rapidly, he decided to ship the bees by air to save time.

Test Anti-Mud Slide Discovery At Calgary

CALGARY.—First Canadian application of a system of electromos to prevent mud slides—a German wartime discovery—was carried out on a steep hill threatening more than a score of Calgary homes.

The experiment, which involved forcing of drainage by using an electric current, started on a 90-foot ride on Sunnyside Hill here.

A midside on the hill, situated on the north bank of the Bow River, forced 63 persons to flee from their homes recently. A number of dwellings suffered minor damage and a garage was demolished.

Electromos involves the drawing out of moisture from the hillside and forming a dry barrier across the brow of the hill. Direct current is forced into the ground through a number of electrodes.

Officials in charge of the experiment hope that the semi-dry barrier along the face of the hill will prevent crumbling of the edge. The process was discovered by a German scientist now living in England. It was first used in constructing the German submarine pens at Trondheim, Norway.

The process requires a direct current to the electrodes which are fixed in water pipes set vertically in the ground. The current draws the water in the vicinity through the ground to the pipes much as a magnet draws iron filings. Once in the pipe, the water is pumped out either manually or automatically to a nearby sewer system.

Prof. R. M. Hardy, Dean of Engineering at the University of Alberta, and Prof. J. A. Harle of the same department, say they are pleased with the initial results of the experiment which is under their direction.

However, they say that it will "be some time yet" before success, or failure, of the experiment can be known.

Dean Hardy said the process, if successful, "will be a more economical than conventional drainage methods."

Weed-Killing Chemical To Be Used Extensively

WINNIPEG.—Between 15 and 20 thousand 2-4-D chemical weed control machines will be in operation to battle the weed menace in the prairie provinces this summer. H. E. Wood, chairman of the Manitoba weeds commission, stated.

The weed-killing chemical will be applied to more than 5,000,000 acres of farm lands in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta.

So far this year in Manitoba, several thousand trial plots and other 2-4-D experiments have been co-ordinated through the central committee of the commission.

Planning for the attack on weeds was started by committees early in January of this year and many pre-emergence tests, where the chemical is applied before the crop appears, have been made.

Sus, near the Persian gulf, is considered to have the longest continuous existence of any city in history—from 4000 B.C. to 650 A.D.

TO EXPORT POWER TO UNITED STATES

VANCOUVER.—Vancouver which last year was forced to buy electric power from the United States, expects to be able to reciprocate in 1949, by selling power to northwestern states.

British Columbia Electric's new Bridge River power development is expected to provide this city with 600,000 hp; and a quantity of this will be exported to the Bonneville Power Administration which supplies Vancouver and part of the lower mainland last year.

Vancouver was short on power last year, and only obtained U.S. electricity through the foresight of officials who had made a deal with Bonneville earlier. The northwestern States were short of power during the winter and it is doubtful if there would have been enough to go around if B.C. had sought a deal any later.
